<<Conflict of Laws in >>

内容概要

This book contains ten contributions that examine current topics in the evolving transatlantic dialogue on the conflict of laws. The first five contributions deal with the design of judgments conventions in general, the recently adopted Hague Convention on Choice of Court Agreements, problems involving negative declaratory actions in international disputes, and recent transatlantic developments relating to service of process and collective proceedings. The remaining five contributions focus on comparative and economic dimensions of party autonomy, choice of law relating to intellectual property rights, the applicable law in antitrust law litigation, international arbitration, and actions for punitive damages. 作者简介： Eckart Gottschalk is an associate with CMS Hasche Sigle in Hamburg specializing on corporate and commercial law. Before he started practising, he served as a Joseph Storu Research Fellow at Harvard Law School and as a senior research fellow at the Max Planck Institute for Comparative and International Private Law in Hamburg, Germany. He is the author of a book about pervasive problems in private international law treaties and has published numerous law review articles on German, European and US business law, comparative law, and private international law. He holds both German State Examinations, a Master of Laws from the University of California, Berkeley, and a Ph.D. from the University of Gottingen (Germany).
