章节摘录

Which of the following, if true, casts the most doubt on the effectiveness of the solution proposed above ?
 The major causes of delays at the nations busiest airports are bad weather and overtaxed air traffic control equipment. Since airline deregulation began, the number of airplanes in operation has increased by 25 percent. Over 60 percent of the takeoff and landing slots at the nations busiest airports are reserved for commercial airlines. Since deregulation the average length of delay at the nations busiest airports has doubled. Unlike the wholesale price of raw wool, the wholesale price of raw cotton has fallen considerably in the last year. Thus, although the retail price of cotton clothing at retail clothing stores has not yet fallen, it will inevitably fall. Which of the following, if true, most seriously weakens the argument above ?

The cost of processing raw cotton for cloth has increased during the last year. The wholesale price of raw wool is typically higher than that of the same volume of raw cotton. The operating costs of the average retail clothing store have remained constant during the last year. Changes in retail prices always lag behind changes in wholesale prices. The cost of harvesting raw cotton has increased in the last year.
