章节摘录

The CAAC has bought a new computer. It joins all the offices of the CAAC in and out of China. It is used to record the tickets that people have bought. It also records the date when they will travel. It is possible to know much faster which planes are full and which planes still have free seats on them. Now people can buy their plane tickets at the offices of the CAAC much faster. In the past, there were long queues of people waiting outside the CAAC offices. You might not be able to buy your ticket until three days before you travelled. Now it is much easier for you to buy tickets and travel by plane. The information in the computer can be used by all the CAAC offices. There are offices in 200 cities in China and also in 70 cities abroad. The new computer has helped travellers and business people. The number of people who travel by plane in China is larger than ever before.
