章节摘录

After retirement from medical research , my wife and I built our home in a gated community surrounded by yacht clubs and golf courses on Hilton Head Island. But when I left for the other side of the island , I was traveling on unpaved roads lined with leaky cottages. The lifestyle of many of the native islanders stood in. shocking contrast to my comfortable existence. By talking to the local folks , I discovered that the vast majority of the maids , gardeners , waitresses and construction workers who make this island work had little or no access to medical care. It seemed outrageous to me. I wondered why someone didn't do something about that. Then my father's words , which he had asked his children daily when they were young , rang in my head again : What did you do for someone today ?

Even though my father had died several years before , I guess I still didn't want to disappoint him. So I started working on a solution. The island was full of retired doctors. If I could persuade them to spend a few hours a week volunteering their services , we could provide free primary health care to those so desperately in need of it. Most of the doctors I approached liked the idea , so long as they could be relicensed without troubles. It took one year and plenty of persistence , but I was able to persuade the state legislators to create a special license for doctors volunteering in not-for-profit clinics.
