作者简介

HINGHUA TANG was born in Shanghai, China. While yet a university student majoring in English language and literature, he won the First Prize in a worldwide English competition sponsored by the BBC in 1980. Subsequently he went to Britain, entered the London School of Economics to study for a Bachelor of Science degree in Economics and graduated with honors. In 1983, he went to the Harvard Business School. He graduated in 1985, being the first Harvard MBA from mainland China since the founding of the People's Republic of China in 1949. His book A Chinese in the Harvard Business School: Firsthand Experience (1990) was a best-seller in Hong Kong and was republished in Beijing and Taipei. His recent book Investment Management and Investment Banking: An Introduction by a Practitioner on Wall Street (1994, prefaced by Jim Rogers), was published in Hong Kong, Shanghai and Taipei, and has been adapted into a special eight-part television series which he hosts for China's television network. Sponsored by Aetna International, Visa International, Chicago Mercantile Exchange and The Nasdaq Stock Market, the series was produced by China Beijing Television in 1995. His new book Modern Financial Planning for Families and Individuals (prefaced by Dr. Henry Kaufman) will be published in 1996. China Central Television (CCTV) will produce a special series based on the book. C'inghua Tang lives in New York and is working in the field of investment management.
