作者简介

Fung Yu-Lan, styled Zhisheng, was born December 4, 1895 in Qiyi Town, Tanghe County, Henan Province. He graduated from the Department of Philosophy of Beijing University in 1918 and from the Graduate School of Columbia University in the US, where he obtained his Ph.D. in 1923. After returning to China he served successively as a professor at Zhongzhou University, Guangdong University, Yanjing University, Qinghua University and Southwest Associated University. He was head of the Department of Philosophy, dean of the College of Arts and acting president of the School Synod of Qinghua University, and president of the College of Arts of Southwest Associated University. He taught at Beijing University since 1952. He died on November 26, 1990.

Fung Yu-Lan was the leading philosopher, historian of philosophy and educator of modern China. His original works on philosophy include A New Treatise on Neo-Confucianism, On New Affairs, Explanation of the New World, A New Treatise on the Nature of Man, The Spirit of Chinese Philosophy and A New Treatise on the Methodology of Metaphysics, establishing the system of neo-Confucianism, and making great contributions to the modernization of Chinese philosophy. As a historian of philosophy, he compiled A History of Chinese Philosophy (two volumes), A Short History of Chinese Philosophy (in English) and the 4th New Edition of A History of Chinese Philosophy (seven volumes), laying the foundation for the history of Chinese philosophy. As an educator he chaired the College of Arts of Qinghua University for 18 years, contributing to the setting up of the unique "Qinghua School" and training a large number of qualified scholars in literature, history and philosophy.

Fung Yu-Lan authored over 30 books and more than 500 articles, with a total of 6.7 million words. These were compiled into the 14-volume The Complete Works of the Hall of Three Pines (volumes 1-9 and 11-14 have already been published). His publications also include the Selected Philosophical Writings of Fung Yu-Lan, and A Taoist Classic-Chuang-Tzu translated by Fung Yu-Lan.
