章节摘录

The official (正式的) time to turn , your clock ahead is early in the morning. 3.Two a.m.becomes three a.m.Sunday will have only 23 hours. (Most people change their clocks before they go to sleep Saturday night.) In the people turn their clock back an hour.

This saying helps people remember which way to turn the clock : “ spring ahead ; fall back. ” (Spring and fall each have two meanings here.

) We use Daylight Saving time in order to save electricity (电) .We need one less hour of light from electricity each day in the summer. Arizona.Hawaii.and parts of Indiana do not use Daylight Saving Time.Not every country uses Daylight Saving Time , either.Countries near the equator (赤道) have no need to use Daylight Saving Time.Their hours of daylight and darkness are always nearly the same.There is no Daylight Saving Time in Japan , China , or India. Countries south of the equator have quite different seasons.They also end their Daylight Saving Time now. 第三节 短文理解 2 阅读下列短文,从[A]、[B]、[C]三个选项中选择一个正确答案,并在答题卡1上将该项涂黑。 请根据下面短文回答第61 - 65题: Ms.Blunsden is a 38-year-old woman who lives by herself in Brooklyn , New York.She has the right to keep any animals now.A police officer told a Brooklyn court (法庭) that he had found 15 dogs and 20 cats living in a small room which was just 10 feet by 12 feet. “ There was not enough place for one animal, let alone 35 , ” he said. “ The room was very dirty ” “The animals are taken good care of. ” Ms.Blunsden told the court. “ I take them all for walks in a shopping cart (购物车) . ” When the court asked Ms.Blunsden why she kept so many animals,she said , “ Everybody loves animals and I do too.
