章节摘录

English is one of the most popular languages in the world. In China , there are millions of students who are learning English. When you start to learn English , you will find out that English is quite different from Chinese. It is not clever to put an English sentence , word for word , into Chinese. Take the sentence "How do you do ?" as an example. If you look up each word in the dictionary , one at a time , what is your translation ?

It must be a wrong sentence in Chinese. Besides , that could also cause a great number of misunderstandings , if you translate (翻译) English into Chinese word by word. English and Chinese do not just have different sounds , and they are different in many ways. Its important to follow the rules for word order in the study of English , too. If the speaker puts words in a wrong order , the listener cant understand the speakers sentence easily. Sometimes the order of words in an English sentence is changed , and then the meaning of the sentence changes. But sometimes when the order is changed , the meaning of the sentence doesnt change. Lets see the difference between the two pairs of sentences.
