章节摘录

The text is an appealing story about father and son, a special experience of a son to understand his father. A large part of the text is devoted to describing how ridiculous the father was and how "I", as a son, was hurt. In the boys words, his father was a windbag, failed in business for giving too much credit, and could hardly support the family. He felt ashamed of having such a loser as his father and wished his father could be someone more decent and dignified. Then a magic night changed the boys attitude when his father took him out for swimming in a dark raining night. Naked in the pond, the long-existed barrier between them disappeared and the son felt a sense of closeness, realizing "He had become blood of my blood".
